Do you think you'd be able to have a look and maybe speak with this student?

Hi Rona,

We got a question in from an 8th grade student from Maryland who is participating in the C-Span Student Cam Contest, an annual national competition that encourages students to develop a 5-7 minute video documentary on a theme of national importance. This year's theme is "Your Message to Washington: What is the most urgent issue for the new president and Congress to address in 2017?"

The student has asked for someone in the Climate Change Division to provide written responses to a number of questions. I'm hoping someone in CSIB can review my draft responses. (See Qs and As attached.) These responses are based on web language and other correspondence. Since some of the questions are a bit tricky, I thought it would be best to respond with a statement, rather than responding to each question.

I'm not sure yet who will "sign" this response. There are some personal questions, such as, "How did you get into working at EPA, and why?" Paul had done a similar interview last year, so I thought I'd check with him first. If Paul chooses not to respond, then I was wondering if you or Allison would like to respond? I think the student would love to hear from a climate scientist.

The student has asked for responses by Wednesday. If you'll need more time to review, please let me know. If this raises red flags for you, please let me know that as well.

Thanks,
Isabel
